Library Directors' Reports:

The Dalles – There is now a job opening for a Clerk I position (as the position for the Teen Librarian was filled from within). Interviews will start on Friday. According to the City, we need to have a manager from another department participate with the interviews, which will be Steve Byers. It is hoped that the new person will be able to start right away. There are 17 applicants, all good. The Teen Librarian position is being shared by Mema and Jeannie. Kathy Viemeister has handed in her resignation, which will open up another half-time position, hopefully that will soon be filled. The Lego wall has been installed, and is very popular. More Legos have been ordered to go with it.

Dufur – Maggie Pando was in recently and updated the computers. Sarah is working with Ingram regarding cataloging books and has lots of questions she needs to find answers to. Dufur is looking for a wall unit similar to the Light Bright. Sarah is working on a Veteran's Day program similar to what they did last year.

Maupin – They just got about 30 Spanish books in (a lot of top sellers). Ed Edmo will do a program on November 14th for Native American Heritage month. Someone else will be making fry bread for them to share. They will be starting story-time up again beginning November 16th. Maupin has hired 3 new library assistants, Kyle Sunega, Nancy Wesson and Amy Pallari. The house at the location for the new library has been leveled, so construction can begin. They did not get the Collins Foundation grant, which would have been used for inside furnishings. Collins wanted to see more outside community involvement from those that would benefit.

Old Business: Water fountain - Jeff has discussed this with Terry, and took into consideration the Board's input. Instead of going with the bottled water, the drinking fountain will be replaced. They will be soliciting quotes.

The grounds - Terry has a new co-worker, so he will not have to do everything himself. The new Safety Director has talked to Terry and Jerry regarding things the library needs fixed.

The lights in the library are being changed out for LED lights. Most of the lights reachable by ladder have been changed, although they are going to have to rent a lift to do the main high-ceiling lights. Some trees have been pruned, and other work is being done.

Hotspot policy - That is going to have to wait, as it needs to be reworded. CGCC wants to get some Hotspots through Google. However, Google prefers to go through our library, since we already have them.

New Business: The dollar limit per family is being handled on a case by case basis. Usually, if multiple family members have maxed out the fine limit, no one can check out, and they cannot get cards for new family members.

Financial Review: Jeff explained, for Tina's benefit, what happens to money in a line item if it is not all spent at the end of the fiscal year.

Statistics: Discussion of Library2Go statistics, it still shows some things that are no longer offered. Jeff will check with Maggie and see if those can be removed from the report. Overall, circulation statistics are going up, especially the Easy and Early Reader books.

The next Library Board meeting will be held November 20th at 4:00 in The Dalles. There will not be a December meeting.

Meeting adjourned at 5:07 pm.
